

Lecture session with a visiting Professor in the IWRM MSc study program

On October 21, the session of regular lectures with a visiting professor in the MSc IWRM study program began. Professor Vlado Spiridonov from UKIM, start the lecture on course of Meteorology with the regular students of FCE. The students were impressed with the information provided by the professor on aspects of climate change, learning materials and lecture methodology.

